CANADA SHOULD PAY OWN PREMIUMS FOR NATIONAL INSURANCE

Minister of Defence Says President Roosevelt's Noble Declaration Increases Rather Than Lessens Responsibility of the Dominion—Sacrifices of Mother-Country

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—Canada must not rely upon her neighbor or sister nations to pay the premium on her national insurance, Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of National Defence, declared tonight.

President Roosevelt's "noble declaration," assuring aid if an invader threatened Canada, only increased the responsibility of the Dominion, rather than lessened it, the minister asserted, before a Crown Life Insurance Company convention dinner.

In these disturbed times, insurance was not only for the individual, but for the community and for the nation, he said. "In these days of swashbuckling gangsters, surely we cannot afford to be still."

HAVE BORNE THE BURDENS

He held the Mother Country had always borne the burden of maintaining the Empire. Her people were now asked to pay the premium to the teeth, "despite the fact that there was nothing more magnificent in history."

Likening parts of the Magna Carta to the present situation.

RETIREMENTS COMING NEXT

Premier Pattullo Confirms Liquor Board Pension Plan as Necessary

Premier Pattullo confirmed the British Columbia Liquor Control Board pension plan scheme on his return to his office yesterday, stating the plan had been forced on the Government by reason of the numbers of senior employees of the board already at or past normal retirement age.

The Government will report the whole scheme to the Legislature at the Fall session and will seek sanction there for the move. Though not expressly stated, it was to be inferred in provincial circles that actual retirements in the liquor board service will be the next step in the scheme, once the pension plan is operating.

In the absence of Hon. G. S. Wismer, Attorney-General, details of the contemplated pensions plan could not be ascertained.

LANDS ADVISER

Premier Pattullo also confirmed the appointment of William Turnbull as special adviser in the Department of Lands to Hon. A. W. Gray. Mr. Turnbull is to investigate agreements and mortgages under the Land Settlement Board, with a view to proposed revision by the Government later.

Asked as to the next step by the Province in connection with the Bowell Commission, Premier Pattullo said he was awaiting word from Ottawa as to the date of the resumed hearings there, with the expectation of going East to attend the final hearings when called, possibly some time next month.

During the day the Premier received W. A. McAdam, acting general at London, and members of the touring lumbermen's delegation.

New Satellites Of Jupiter Found

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Carnegie Institution of Washington announced today that two new satellites on the planet Jupiter have been discovered by its Mount Wilson observatory in California.

They were found by Dr. Seth Nicholson in a two-month survey of the planet through a giant 100-inch telescope. They are far too dim to be seen with ordinary telescopes.

British Columbia Lumber Regarded Well in Britain

Assurance of Supply and Maintenance of Standard Will Lead to Steady Increase in Exports to the British Isles, Visiting Timbermen Say—Party Is Impressed by Operations

IF British Columbia maintains its continuity of supply and is careful of the standard of manufactured lumber exported to the United Kingdom, there is reason to believe that the present trade will increase and that the British Isles will remain an outstanding market for Pacific Coast lumber for some time to come, touring British timbermen united in saying on arrival here yesterday in the course of a Provincial Government tour.

Ernest P. Tetsall, of Ipswich, past president of the Timber Trade Development Association of Britain, and thirty-three others representing English, Scottish, Irish, Welsh, and French timber trade executives, registered at the Empress Hotel on Sunday afternoon, under the guidance of William A. McAdam, acting agent-general for the province at London.

ARE ENTERTAINED

Soon after arrival the party was driven to Butchart's Gardens, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart and royally entertained. Yesterday, save for two

CLOSING IN ON FRANCO'S BASE

Spanish Government Troops Threatening to Cut Off Miles of Lines

HENDAYE, France, Aug. 29.—Spanish Government troops were reported today to be closing in on Castuera, insurgent base 150 miles southwest of Madrid, and threatening to cut off twenty miles of the enemy's lines.

Counter-attacks against the insurgent threat to drive east for the valuable Almaden mercury mines, the militiamen struck from the north along the Villanueva de la Serena and Comares sectors. Government dispatches said these troops broke through the left flank of the enemy and occupied numerous positions around Castuera.

MAIN ROAD CUT

They also asserted the main road running east from Castuera to Cabeza del Buey, twenty miles away on the route to Almaden, had been cut, although secondary lines apparently remained intact.

Insurgent advances acknowledged that Generalissimo Franco's legions had taken the defensive in the Castuera sector, but asserted Government assaults had been checked.

Dispatches from both Government and insurgent sides indicated the battle in the Lower Ebro Valley in Eastern Spain, was slackening with exhausted troops resting after a month's struggle which left the Government in possession of its gains on the west bank of the river.

Lightning Starts Scores of Fires

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Lightning started dozens of fires during the week-end in national forests of Northern Idaho and Western Montana, and equipment for 200 men was dispatched from Spokane today to the Kaniklu Forest to combat what appeared to be the most menacing of the blazes.

UNEASINESS MOUNTS AGAIN IN EUROPE OVER GERMAN ATTITUDE IN CZECH MINORITY PROBLEM

Earthquake Does Heavy Damage on Philippine Islands
British Cabinet Meeting Today to Consider Plans For Easing Tension—Hitler's Tour of Western Fortifications Causes New Unrest in France—Berlin Says Crisis May Become Acute

FOCAL point of the international diplomatic scene shifts today to London, where the British Cabinet is meeting to consider Prime Minister Chamberlain's plans for easing the crisis over the dispute between Czechoslovakia and her autonomy-seeking Sudeten German minority, backed by Chancellor Hitler. Informed sources in London suggested that Great Britain might decide to deliver a bold warning to Berlin against any German aggression in Czechoslovakia.

In Berlin, the German Foreign Office multiphase warned that a latent crisis is threatening to become acute, while Hitler made a swift tour of Reich fortifications along the French border.

Hitler's tour of German's western frontier fortifications, which began on Saturday, took him today to Kehl, across from Strasbourg, France, and then south toward Basel.

French war games around Besancon, 120 miles southwest of Strasbourg, began today. They will involve more than 20,000 of the nation's crack troops.

In Paris, Premier Daladier went to a Cabinet meeting at which the international situation was reviewed, to a one-hour conference with President Albert Lebrun.

CONFERENCES IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Downing Street was the scene today of a series of diplomatic conferences designed to save Central Europe from a general war.

Central figure was Sir Neville Henderson, Ambassador to Germany, who gave Prime Minister Chamberlain, Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, and Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, his views on the Czechoslovak situation. Their meeting was an important prelude to tomorrow's gathering of Cabinet Ministers.

One report was that today's meeting considered reports from Soviet Russia, Rumania and Yugoslavia that these three countries had refused to join the Munich pact.

COMPLAINS OF POLICE GUARD

M.P. for Vancouver North Resents Presence of Officers at Meeting

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29.—Grant MacNeil, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of Parliament for Vancouver North, has addressed a formal complaint to Hon. G. S. Wismer, Attorney-General of British Columbia, against the presence of two British Columbia policemen at a C.C.F. meeting held at Van Ande, B.C.

Van Ande is in Triad Island, about forty miles northwest of here, and a few miles from Blubber Bay, scene of a strike of Pacific Lumber Company employees.

ATTENDANCE CHECKED

"I would like to know who gave orders to two Provincial Policemen, who have been stationed at Blubber Bay, to travel to Van Ande and take up positions at the door of our meeting. Presumably they checked over all who attended," MacNeil said in an interview here.

The member spoke of what he termed tension at Blubber Bay and said it was caused by the presence of a dozen or more Provincial Police, pickets and "seabs."

"It is interesting to watch the seabs come in. Pickets line one side of the dock, 'seabs' the other and the police are between them. Feeling runs very high."

PLAN MORE WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The United States Navy, anxious to continue the present fast pace of warship building, has begun preparations of a 1939-40 programme which, officials indicate, will comprise at least eighteen fighting ships.

GALES AND FLOODS FATAL IN MEXICO

MONTERREY, Mexico, Aug. 29.—Jose C. Powell, city editor of El Porvenir, Monterrey newspaper, said tonight that nine were known dead and 400 families homeless after gales and floods swept this area today. The dead were all residents of Monterrey, who were returning home from Saltillo. They were reported drowned when their three automobiles were washed away on the Monterrey-Saltillo Highway.

STORM STRIKES OTTAWA VALLEY

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—An electrical hail and rain storm swept the Ottawa and Gatineau Valleys tonight leaving a trail of burned farm buildings, flattened crops and broken telephone poles. Crop damage in the area, within a thirty-mile radius of Ottawa, was believed heavy.

BREAKS FREE FROM ICE PACK

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 29.—Via Transport Department Wireless.—The motor vessel Therese, Arctic supply ship for the Roman Catholic Church, has broken from the ice pack in which it was jammed for three days off Cape Wilson, on the east coast of Melville Peninsula, and is continuing its voyage to Ogloolik, N.W.T., at the top of Foxe Basin. It was reported tonight.

BREAKS ENGLISH GLIDING RECORD

SHREWSBURY, Shropshire, England, Aug. 29.—A young officer of the Fleet Air arm, with only five days' gliding experience, has broken the English single-seater gliding record. A N. Young, twenty-two, remained in the air for fifteen and three-quarter hours, breaking the existing record by eighty minutes.

Guerrilla Bands Invade Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—Shanghai, continually threatened by Chinese guerrilla bands, was invaded tonight by a band of irregulars who crossed the western border of the city.

The Chinese soldiers came within two and one-half miles of the International Settlement's western defense lines, which British troops patrol, and set fire to a highway bridge adjacent to the International Settlement. They hoisted their flag there.

As Japanese troops dashed to the scene, the irregulars withdrew.

ADMIRAL HORTHY BACK IN HUNGARY

Budapest, May Seek Concessions From Czechoslovakia for Hungarian Minorities

BUDAPEST, Aug. 29.—Hungary's recent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy, returned today from a three-day visit to Germany, described as a strengthening link in Hungarian-German economic relations.

Although Horthy and his host, Adolf Hitler, did not sign any agreement, officials in the regent's party said the two were in full accord on a plan for permanent peace in Central Europe.

To this end, they said Hungary, probably would join Germany in demanding positive concessions from Czechoslovakia to her minorities, including 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans and 100,000 Hungarians.

An explosion which shook downtown Budapest occurred forty minutes after Horthy's arrival. An official statement said the blast had no political significance.

GRAVE ALLEGATIONS

It is now becoming certain that there will be an inquiry under the Combines Act into certain charges that have been made that a combine exists in the marketing of fruit and vegetables in the Western Provinces. In British Columbia a full inquiry is demanded by the growers, and it is apparent that this is a matter for the Federal Government, since what has to be determined includes the operations of brokerage houses in the Prairie Provinces as well as here. The inquiry should have the widest possible scope, and be pursued with the sole object of protecting the interests of producers and consumers.

The demand for an inquiry is due to the unflinching efforts of Mr. Basil Gardom, who has been the chief protagonist of the rights of producers ever since compulsory co-operation in marketing was put into operation in this province. Following investigations made by him, and their disclosure before a meeting of growers at Vernon, the demand for an investigation grew clamorous, and now large groups of growers from various sections of British Columbia have joined in the demand for official action. The Financial News of Vancouver, says that "not only is it alleged that a combine exists, comprising some fourteen wholesale houses and four brokerage firms, but it is also charged that there is in existence a shipper-jobber combine which operates very much to the disadvantage of the primary producers."

If the marketing boards of British Columbia were giving complete and adequate protection to both growers and consumers it is very clear that there would never have been a demand for such an inquiry as is now proposed. The responsibility is theirs to insure that all their operations will be such as will safeguard the public as a whole and be carried on in a way which will never arouse suspicion of any character. Obviously, those boards and their methods will be on trial in any investigation. The sooner their skirts are cleared, if that is possible, the better for the reputation of governmental interference with the law of supply and demand.

ECONOMIC DETERMINATION

Social reformers, however much they differ in other ways, are usually alike in one respect. They are apt to select a single aspect of social life, the political, economic, biological, cultural, religious, or legal, and arbitrarily declaring it to be fundamental to all the rest, proceed at once with the plans and specifications of their Utopia. The guardians of Plato's republic were to be the product of a rigid system of education. The wise men who governed the New Atlantis of Bacon were deeply learned in science in all its branches. More's Utopia was based on the theory of a great reformation and improvement in human culture. Harrington, in his Oceana, produced a commonwealth based not on culture as an instrument of progress, but on an agrarian economy. Hume, the Scottish philosopher, put forward his idea of a Perfect Commonwealth, in which he tried to improve on Harrington, whose system provided no security for freedom or the redress of grievances. Hume's scheme rested on political considerations. Galton entertained great hopes that a programme based on eugenics, if only it were supported by a kind of religious zeal for biblical improvement, would provide an adequate cure for many of society's ills. Marx believed that economic forces are the true causes of every human movement.

No one will deny that these and other features or aspects of human society are highly important, but it is an error to assume that any one of them is the sole determining factor in social progress. Important as they are, each of them is dependent on all the other features of the social structure. Society is a system, a living organism, and its real basis can be nothing else than the rational coherence of the elements of which it is composed, its connective tissue, so to speak. In considering the nature and purpose of any mechanical system, a watch, for example, no one would suggest that its shape, or its dimensions, or its artistic finish, or the material of which it is composed, or any other single feature, forms its "basis." No single aspect reveals or determines its character as a coherent system. The same is true of society. The basis of society is to be found in the integral relations existing between the organism as a whole and its constituent members.

Not all of the writers mentioned above were guilty of the error spoken of, but most of them were. Galton, although he believed firmly in eugenics, did not go so far as to set up a doctrine of "biological" determination. Determination denotes the theory that human nature is not free, but determined by motives regarded as external forces acting on the will, and "economic determination" asserts that these external forces operate imperiously in the economic field. It is pure assumption. It may be admitted that the phrase makes up in sound what it lacks in sense. Pronounced trippingly on the tongue, it is so impressive that it almost carries conviction. As such, however, it is precisely no better and no worse than "biological determination." Surely, altering Cassius slightly, "this is as fair a name, sound them, it doth become the mouth as well, weigh them, it is as heavy; conjure with 'em, one will start a spirit as soon as 'tother."

Economic determination, as a theory, is in complete contradiction with the actual practice of many of its exponents. The man of wealth who gives up his fortune for the cause is acting in accordance with a moral code, and not from "economic" motives. The workman who spends his time and labor for the cause instead of trying to better his own economic status, is in a similar position. They both preach economic determination, but they order their own lives according to a moral law.

It seldom or never happens that the cultural progress of any nation, its capacity for political action, the growth of a sound legal system, or its economic development advances at the same rate of speed. Progress in one field is assisted or retarded by advance or recession in another. In a low state of public morals political reform is slow. Education and culture are the product of leisure, and there is little leisure in a primitive economy. The same is true of the relations between moral, eugenic, and legal standards. No single feature of social life is the sole determinant. Order and coherence form the real basis of the social system.

A MOTORING RECORD

It is idle to speculate as to whether or not Captain George E. T. Eyston's latest record in speeding a motor car over the Bonneville Salt Flats of Utah will be beaten. It probably will; but there must be some limit to the rate at which it is possible to drive a specially-constructed car. Captain Eyston has reached a speed of 345.49 miles an hour over a measured mile traveled in both directions. The feature of this performance is that it should have so greatly exceeded the previous record of 314.42 miles per hour, made by the same driver last year. The place chosen for the trials very likely is the most favorable one available on any continent; but, ideal as it is, the risk of accident must increase with every succeeding improvement in the rate of speed.

Captain Eyston's latest feat has demonstrated the state of perfection reached by British motor engines, as has been illustrated as well by the fact that a British ship again holds the trans-Atlantic record. In the case of the motoring record, however, there is the element of personal courage and daring needed in high degree when "whistling" along at such a speed, for that is the word Captain Eyston himself used to describe his experience. The performance, too, is a high test of physical well-being, because of the strain it involves. Captain Eyston is not a loquacious individual, and seems to have said little about the feat. He is the man of action, not of words, and is satisfied, as he ought to be, in succeeding in what he set out to do.

Lord Tweeddale has given some sound advice about the endless repetition of the talk about the friendship that exists between this country and the United States. That friendship is axiomatic, since the two nations have similar ideals and aspirations, as well as common interests. The Governor-General says: "I believe profoundly in friendship between Canada and the United States, but don't let us be too self-conscious about it. Don't let us always be turning up the plants to see how the roots are getting on."

Some day a round-the-world flight will be attempted, but in reality it will only be possible when the strict basis of circumnavigation is to pass over two places of equal and opposite latitude and longitude. There must be a proper minimum of a great circle. It is not enough to have crossed all the meridians.

A "FRIENDSHIP OF UNLIKES"

The partnership of Great Britain and France is the friendship of unlikes. "That they will ever understand each other, except through their hearts, is perhaps too much to hope," said that great ambassador, M. Paul Cambon. But in recent years the security of the two countries has again become interlinked, and identity of interests has never been so powerful a bond of union as it is today. "Invasion remains an imminent alarm," wrote the English historian of France some forty years ago, and the memorial at Villers-Bretonneux which King George is to unveil to the memory of the gallant Australians testifies that the fear was not unfounded. It was this fear, or menace, which transformed the Anglo-French Treaty of 1904 into something resembling an alliance, and history has recently repeated itself in the conversion of a treaty, which was originally impartial and as it were impersonal, into a firm military alliance of two of the original five parties to it, for, since the denunciation of Locarno by Germany two years ago, British and French armed assistance have been mutually pledged for the event of an unprovoked aggression upon either.—The Times, London.

Happiness never lays its finger on its pulse. If we attempt to steal a glimpse of its features it disappears.—Alexander Smith.

TRACES GROWTH OF AIR FORCE

Gyros Told of Growth of R.C.A.F. From Civil Unit by Speaker

Growth of the Royal Canadian Air Force from a supplementary civil service to an active force among the Dominion's defence units was traced by Flight Lieut. J. L. Plant, former Victorian and now R.C.A.F. instructor at Regina, Sask., in a luncheon address to the Gyro Club yesterday.

Formed on April 4, 1924, after several previous efforts had failed, the Royal Canadian Air Force operated as a civilian unit in co-operation with Canada's forest patrols, and by means of aerial photography aided in the mapping of much of the uncharted areas of the Dominion's hinterlands. Although pilots were trained between 1924 and 1931, intensive training courses were not developed until later.

In 1932 came the legislative act which changed the status of the civilian body to an active force, the speaker pointed out, and it was in that year that the R.C.A.F. began the rapid period of development that today finds its personnel standing at 2,000 men and 200 officers, he said.

Pointing out the vast improvement in the type of plane now used to train pilots, the speaker said that while the total force of the R.C.A.F. was listed at 2,200 it was supplemented throughout the Dominion by numerous non-permanent squadrons.

Stationed in Regina, one of the main points on the route of the Trans-Canada Air Lines, the officer told his hearers briefly of the uses of the radio beam system, and the various courses in which the future pilots of Canada's passenger air lines are being trained.

The speaker was introduced to the luncheon meeting by Hubert Leith-Brown, president of the Gyro Club, and by Everett Taylor, Gyro president, acted as chairman.

In a brief address W. H. Tobey, newly-elected governor of the Gyro District No. 4, and the Canadian National Railways divisional superintendent at Prince Rupert, told the assembly of the plans now under way for the holding of the International Gyro convention to be held at Banff next year. A convention of District No. 4 will be held in Prince Rupert on the same date.

Mr. Tobey, vacationing on Salt Spring Island, will return to Prince Rupert this week.

Glancing Over Sport

They were a mighty good football team and very clever, but the stamina of my boys proved too much for them in the final match," stated Jimmy Thomson, manager of North Shore United, Canadian champions in speaking of Dauphin's victory over the Navy at the Athletic Park.

Do you know that Seattle will have a team in the Vancouver and District Football League this coming season? The sound-carrying now busy these days rounding out a strong aggregation to give the Mainlanders stiff competition during the schedule.

Bar Taro, sixteen-year-old Seattle youngster, who went to the semi-finals of the U.S. national public links golf tournament, ran the longest of luck. In his semi match Taro was seven up at the eighteenth hole, and then he ran into Lady Misfortune during the afternoon and lost out on the final green.

Party Bera is rapidly developing into one of the greatest women golfers of all time. She fired a great 74 over a men's par 71 on Saturday in the Western final and wound up her match on the eighteenth green with an eagle on a 556-yard hole.

APRECIATIVE

A young violinist was playing very sentimental Russian airs when he saw an elderly gentleman in a tuxedo. Going up to him, he said: "Excuse me, sir, are you a Russian?" "No," replied the gentleman, "I'm a musician."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of August 30, 1888)

Plans for Depot—The president of the Westminster Southern Railway, Mr. B. Douglas, has received plans for the depot building to be erected on Lytton Square, and also for the passenger house and hotel to be erected at Brockville, on the south side of the river. The depot will be of brick, two stories high, with a mansard roof. The hotel and passenger house will be two stories high with a mansard roof, and will be fitted with all the requirements of a first-class hotel. The building will be of wood with a rustic finish.

Water Pipes Laid—The second attempt made to lay the water pipes across the Narrows at the Inlet has proved successful, and in a short time Vancouver will be supplied with a copious quantity of fresh, clear water. Naturally the citizens are jubilant, the conditions heretofore having been the most miserable. The Capilano water, whence the supply is brought, is cold and refreshing.

Scottish Concert—The grand Scottish concert to be held on Monday evening next in the hall of the First Presbyterian Church will be under the direction of Mr. James Brown, the celebrated baritone who will be assisted by Miss O'Neill, Mrs. Turnbull, Professor Sharpe and other prominent musicians. It is understood that one of our sweetest lady singers has kindly consented to give a Scotch song in Highland costume, and those who have the management of the affair are determined to make the concert a brilliant success.

THE OBSERVATION CAR

By THE EDITORIAL STAFF

The Old Sleuth
An advertising sleuth, who strolls along the downtown streets seeing all and knowing nothing—except what he tells us. For a long time he has been watching the red chalk marks on auto tires in the course of his business and last week discovered a heinous plot guaranteed to trap errant parkers who leave their buses on the main thoroughfares for more than an hour. According to the sleuth, the police have discarded their bright red chalk that used to show up rather plainly, even on mud-covered tires, and have substituted a mysterious dark red stripe that is only visible from close range. Next week the sleuth promises he will get down and his hands and knees and see if the officers are marking the tires of the inside underneath the fenders. If the boy keeps on he will get a ticket for obstructing a police officer.—W.I.F.

SOUNDS LIKE TRUTH

We heard a motorist remark: "The motorist's willingness to pay a fair tax for the privilege of driving an automobile has been used as an excuse to make the motorist the province's tax goat. It has always seemed unreasonable to that a gallon of gasoline retailed at twenty-one cents should bear a tax of seven cents. One or two cents would be more equitable. If all the money collected from that source had been used for highways as intended from the start, British Columbia would today be honeycombed with modern concrete roads and bridges. We assume nothing more will be heard of the long-planned West Coast road until shortly before the next provincial election. While we are on the subject of motorists, we have always contended that the licence fees for automobiles are out of all reason. What could be more ridiculous than a man with an old car worth about $50 being relieved to the minimum of $160 for the privilege of becoming a tax goat for twelve months?—G.B.

BALKY BRIDGES

One of our operatives came panting into the office a few minutes ago with a bit of news—only a year old. But since he ran all the way from Johnson Street to report it, we'll overlook his tardiness with nothing more than a mild reprimand. Hamish, it appears, was standing on the Equinall side of one of Victoria's better known draw bridges when the bridge was being lowered back into position. Half way down the red light and warning bell ceased operations, and to a motorist with a car good enough to make the grade the road ahead might have seemed clear. The "all clear" sign lasted only a few seconds before the bridge continued on its way down into position, but our man Friday maintains that some of these days someone is going to take that sign literally and get a Saturday night bath a little ahead of schedule. Unless it happened on Saturday night of course. But as we said, the bridge was going through that same little trick a year ago, and nobody has gone overboard yet. So we don't think Hamish need lose any sleep about the whole thing.—J.A.M.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
— World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

It usually is a mixed blessing played a third round. Declarer carefully ruffed with the eight spot and led a low heart to dummy, then led the spade seven through East, who covered with the jack. Declarer won with the queen, then re-entered dummy with a heart, to lead the spade six. The importance of declarer's having retained the five spot now becomes clear. If declarer's lowest trump at this point had been the eight, he would have had to overtake. Then his last heart would have been necessary as an entry to dummy and, with a trump king, the declarer would have had the A 10 9 of trumps to East's K 4. On the next lead from dummy, East would merely discard a heart, since declarer would be forced to ruff. Then, conundrum would have been made to East's trump king.

When dummy's six of trumps, however, could hold the lead, declarer getting under it with the five spot, it was quite a different story. Now declarer led a club. East discarded a heart and deliberately shortened his own trump holding to equal East's by ruffing. Then, with only one heart and the A 10 of spades left, declarer led the heart to dummy. East had to follow and, on a club or heart lead from dummy, the K 4 of trumps was neatly trapped in front of the A 10.

By correct play, declarer had kept East from making a trump trick, and thus had fulfilled his doubling contract.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

TAKING OUT
LARGE LISTLiner Niagara Is Sailing
Tomorrow for Sydney
And Way Ports

On her way to Australia by way of Hawaii, Fiji and New Zealand, the Canadian-Australasian S.S. Niagara, Captain William Martin, will be here for a short time tomorrow afternoon. The green liner is due here at 4 p.m. and will leave for Honolulu, her first port of call, as soon as passengers embark and mails and cargo are loaded.

Travelers sailing on the Niagara include Lord Gowrie, Governor-General of Australia, accompanied by his brother, Colonel Hore-Ruthven; his aide-de-camp, Squadron Leader S. J. Mair; Sir Harry Luke, newly-appointed Governor of the Fiji Islands; and twenty schoolboys from Waiuku, New Zealand, returning home after a tour of Canada.

EXCURSIONS

S.S. Princess Victoria will bring an excursion into Victoria from Vancouver today. The Victoria should be here about 1 p.m. On Thursday, the same popular excursion ship will go to Seattle from Victoria on an all-day outing, leaving the Belleville Street docks of Canadian Pacific Steamships at 8:30 a.m.

JAPANESE LINER

Bound from Japan ports for Vancouver and Seattle, the Ms. Helan Maru, N.Y.K. line, was due to reach William Head at midnight yesterday.

SEASON OVER

Arriving over the week-end, the Ss. Princess Alice is alongside the B.C. Coast Service docks in the Inner Harbor, having completed her summer sailings in the Alaska service.

BACK AT DESK

Captain J. A. Philipson was back at his desk at the headquarters office yesterday after a holiday spent motoring in Eastern British Columbia and Alberta. Accompanied by Mrs. Philipson, he visited Banff and the noted points of interest in the national park and went to the end of the new highway, building to link up Banff and Jasper. Captain Philipson was most enthusiastic about this new road, which, he stated, would open up to tourists some of the grandest scenery in America.

JOINING ASIA

David Kirkendall, son of Captain George Kirkendall, harbormaster, left Victoria yesterday to join the Canadian Pacific Ss. Empress of Asia. Dave, who spent some time in Old Country ships, will fill the fifth officer's berth on the big liner.

WITHDRAWING

The Pacific Northwest Oriental Line, which was incorporated by Seattle parties with the view of replacing the suspended service of the American Mail Line, has been granted authority by the Securities and Exchange Commission to withdraw its statement as filed under the Securities Act of 1933.

SAILING SHIPS

The United States Maritime Commission has purchased two three-masted, square-rigged ships to be used for training of sea-going personnel of the American Merchant Marine. Both ships have had long and romantic careers, and the Tustala, ex-Solus, ex-Serria, ex-Invergull, has been a familiar sight on the Pacific Ocean in days gone by. The Tustala has been purchased from the Maritime Liquidating Corporation, and the Joseph Conrad has been presented to the commission by Huntington Hartford of New York. Both ships will be stationed temporarily at least, at Hoffman's Island, New York Harbor, eastern base of the training programme. The Tustala is 261 feet over all, with a gross tonnage of 4,748 and 1,624 net. She was built in Scotland in 1883. The Joseph Conrad is equipped with a Diesel motor of 160-horsepower, is 147 feet six inches over all, and was built in Copenhagen in 1882. She has a gross tonnage of 212 and 182 net.

PLANE BOUNCED
WHILE LANDING

Deadweight Load of Albattross Thought to Be Responsible for Accident

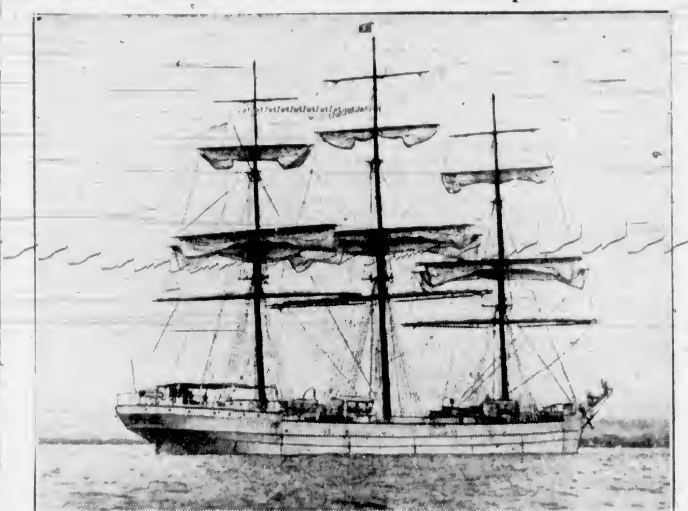

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Engineers today worked on a defect in the Albattross, Great Britain's largest commercial air liner, with the intention of assuring that future craft of the type do not suffer accidents such as broke the big land plane Saturday.

Authorities said the accident would in no way retard the development of trans-Atlantic air service. The plane, built to span the ocean in regular commercial traffic, bounced in landing at Hatfield Airfield and broke in two. None of the four men aboard was injured.

Company officials said the plane was undergoing tests of "exceptionally severe nature, loaded up to 3,000 pounds more than the maximum 'all-weight' of the certificate of airworthiness."

The load was load. It was thought possible the deadweight of the cargo had something to do with the accident.

Tustala Saved From the Shipbreakers

When the U.S. Maritime Commission was not able to take advantage of James A. Farrell's offer of the Tustala as a training ship, Mr. Farrell sold her to a ship-breaking firm. Since the Tustala was sold, Congress authorized a sail-training plan, and the square-rigger was purchased from the Maritime Liquidating Corporation for $10,000. The Tustala will now be used for training seafaring personnel of the American Merchant Marine.

COASTAL SHIPS
MAY COME BACK

Pacific Steamship May Enter
San Francisco-Seattle
Service Again

The future of the Pacific Steamship Line will be determined at a Federal court hearing in San Francisco, September 2. It is reported from the California post should the court hearings proceed favorably, there is a possibility that a new coastwise service will be formed, and the vessels of the Pacific Steamship Line again operate within a year's time.

It is understood that R. Stanley Dilling will be back of the proposed new organization to operate a line of vessels between California and Northwest ports.

The Pacific Steamship Line, a Dollar subsidiary has several large vessels, including the H. F. Alexander and the Emma Alexander. Another ship, the Dorothy Alexander, was sold last spring by permission of the United States courts.

It is believed the remaining vessels will also be sold and smaller ones, more suitable for coastwise traffic, purchased on the East Coast. Tentative plans call for seventeen-knot ships capable of making the San Francisco-Seattle trip in forty-eight hours, carrying freight and having accommodation for approximately 100 passengers.

Of Winning Craft on Sunday Last

Lady Luck sailed with the winners of the Discovery Island, Chatham Island and special trophies on Sunday last, but the skippers of Boykin, Kismet and P.D.Q. did the best guessing and were in the best positions to take advantage when the opportunities offered, of eddies, kelp beds and the catspaw airs, prevailing in the waters in the vicinity of the islands round which the boats had to manoeuvre, without actually paddling or rowing their little craft. Cameron Lumber Ball Nine Wins Vancouver Island Championship

"Rosy" McLellan Heaves Lumbermen to 7-0 Triumph Over MacMillans in Deciding Game at Duncan—Winners Play Smart Ball

Softball champions of Vancouver Island by virtue of their impressive 7-0 triumph over MacMillan Electric, Sunday, at Duncan, Manager Jack Packer's hustling, yellow-sweatered Cameron Lumber nine are eagerly awaiting the British Columbia finals at the Royal Athletic Park here on Labor Day.

Sunday's exhibition at the Up-Island city saw "Rosy" McLellan, lumbermen's first-string hurler, as the best. The eleven-inning contest let the Duncan softballers down with four scattered singles, as he checked in with his fifth-playoff triumph in six starts. It was McLellan who tossed Cameron to victory three times over the Victoria Longshoremen in the Lower Island finals, and it was this same pitcher who brought them through to the Vancouver Island championship.

Defeated 5-4 at the Caledonia Avenue ball lot last Tuesday, Cameron Lumber looked like a different squad. Their old fight and hustle had returned and they were really in the ball game every minute. Duncan, defeated by a better squad on the day's performance, made a few mistakes early in the fast tussle, and although they fought a game uphill fight, they could not match the hitting and smart fielding of the lumbermen from Victoria.

Cameron got to "Specs" Baldwin and Kdahl, pair of MacMillan

hurlers, for nine safeties, while the Duncan batters had difficulty nicking "Rosy" McLellan for four safeties. The Victoria hurler was in great form, and, in addition to heaving winning ball, drove across four of the club's seven runs. The lumbermen's twirler crafted out a four-base knock in the fifth frame with two mates on the cushions, and later laced out a triple and scored another run.

"Specs" Baldwin, who paired MacMillans to victory over Odgers in the second game of the series, could not hold the rampaging lumbermen in check Sunday. He lasted for four and one-third frames, and during that time allowed six runs to cross the home plate. Kdahl replaced Baldwin and gave up one run during his sojourn on the hillock.

The handsome Buzz Francis Memorial Trophy, emblematic of the Vancouver Island championship, was presented to Louie Murray, captain of the Cameron Lumber softballers, by G. E. Bonner, vice-president of the Mid-Island Softball Association, at the conclusion of the game.

Short score: R H E
Cameron..... 7 9 1
MacMillans..... 0 4 4
Batteries: McLellan and Harris; Baldwin, Kdahl and Strouger; Umpires: Battle, Ladysmith and Bennett, Duncan.

SAHARA CHIEF RACE WINNER

Nanaimo-Owned Horse Tops Field in Feature Event At Hastings Park

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29.—Sahara Chief, Frank Beban's speedy three-year-old, from Nanaimo, thrilled 7,000 at Hastings Park today when he won the Canadian Pacific Railway Handicap, feature event on the card. Good Han was second, and Prince Heather third.

Sahara Chief set his own pace without being fully extended. The winner paid $4.40, $3.20 and $2.65 on $2 pari-mutuel tickets. "Good Han" came from far back to get the place in the final stride from Prince Heather.

Sunny Dolas topped the sixth after he broke through on the inside of the field. Bowery Six came from behind on the outside and finished second, with Larkspur third.

Heavily-played favorite Dry Hills scored an easy victory in the fourth, an event for two-year-olds foaled in Western Canada. Belles pulled up second and Gordellus third.

Ide S. squared through a knot-hole in the third to win easily from Doctor Lark and Flying Bud.

The double was worth $46.95 on the Standstill-Ide S. combination, while the one-two bet paid off $19.90 on Sunny Dolas and Bowery Six.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If August 30 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 3:15 a.m. until 12:15 p.m.; from 2:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m. from 4:15 to 6:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

Unless you take precautions to be open-minded and free from the prejudicial influences of likes and dislikes, you may find yourself very combative this day. If you go around looking for chips on other people's shoulders to knock off, you may find more than you bargained for. Smiles and tactful acquiescence are the best antidotes you can use to counteract the violence of bad temper and stinging tongue. You may be able to do a great deal of good this day by making encouraging and optimistic remarks. This appears to be a good day to make your influence away the thoughts of those near to you, particularly in matters requiring a constructive line of thought. Married and engaged couples and those who have been conquered by Cupid's wiles, must think twice before changing their minds if they wish to enjoy a peaceful day.

If a woman and August 30 is your birthday, you may control the heartstrings of many people by being affectionate, considerate and patient. Your greatest danger might come from accepting as true some hearsay gossip. In business matters be careful that busybody friends do not unwittingly induce you to do the wrong thing. You should be fully capable of forming your own opinions and making your own decisions. Upon the degree of your spiritual development depends the amount of your mental contentment. As an interior decorator, purchasing agent, office manager, writer, professional entertainer, artist, actress or a publicity woman success may be easily attained by you, and a freedom from financial worries. Through marriage may come your happiest hours and the enjoyment of many luxuries.

The child born on August 30 is an early-life to give more indications of having a very sentimental nature. Children born on this date frequently grow up to hold positions of great responsibility, and through them often amass a great deal of wealth.

If a man and August 30 is your natal day, by possessing an excellent memory, a ready tongue and a pleasing personality, Dame Fortune is likely to favor you with her smiles. Last political religion, a shipyard, selling promotional work or the field of finance may be the means of your realizing your ambitious dreams.

Sambo raced over and grabbed the other man's arm, demanding why the money hadn't been paid.
"Cause," replied the man, harshly, "Ah been in jail for a murder Ah committed on what was your reason for stoppin' me?"
Sambo gulped. He set his lips. He reason Ah stopped you, he returned nervously, was see to tell you not to worry. Dat debt is outlawed!"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

"Shall we start where we left off yesterday or on the first tee again?"

Jane Dixon Says:

THE GIRL WHO CANNOT DECIDE WHICH OF TWO MEN TO MARRY SHOULD MARRY NEITHER

When you cannot decide which of two persons to marry, the honest thing to do is to marry neither.

By delaying decision until there is no shadow of doubt in your mind as to which is the one, you will save yourself a great deal of unhappiness and will start married life with the balance in favor of success.

Dear Jane Dixon: I want you to choose for me between two boys, one of whom I probably will marry. I'll give you a careful description of each, beginning with the one I like best.

This boy—call him Eagle—is Italian, although one would never know it. Not that this matters to me especially. He is very good-looking and I've gone with him steadily for several years. I'm positive he loves me. He's taking up aviation so he can make something of himself and we can marry. He has a very restless nature, and I imagine being married to him would be like reading a book—one would never know what was coming next.

The only reason I'd be afraid to marry him is that if we should go out. Then he'd very likely go alone. He's not the kind who could sit down and just enjoy his home or read. He'd have to be on the go, even when we were older and I might be ready to settle down. So far I've loved him through everything, and, frankly, I don't see how I ever could stop. My family disapproves of him. Yet I love him and he is a good boy with fine clean ways. I'm very restless, by nature, too.

The other boy—call him John—is from out of town. I went with him for several months. He seems much older than I, though he's not. He is very good-looking—not as handsome as Eagle—has a good job with a chance for advancement, and he, too, really cares for me.

When I'm with Eagle, I keep remembering things John and I have done together. He is big, athletic, and I know I'd have a peaceful life with him, for he is intellectual and regular. I never would have to worry about his finding someone else. My family likes him a lot. He is not Italian. He has good clean habits. I thought I loved him when I'd have to stay at home sometimes and he'd want to go with me. Now I know I love Eagle more, and I'd be afraid to break with him for fear he'd do something rash. He's that way.

What shall I do? I'm sick with worry. First I decide on one then on the other. I do want to make the right decision—Quandy.

Comment: Surely I'll make a choice for you, but I'm warning you, you will not like it. I choose neither of these young men—for the present. You do not love Eagle enough, or you lack the courage to take up your life with him. You like John as a friend and as a companion, but you do not love him. No woman who has the heart or the strength to avoid such mummies brings a divided love to the marriage altar.

Under the circumstances, you tell me both young men are fine, clean and ambitious, you may discard the preference of your family. It is you, not your family, who must live with your husband.

Eagle is restless, his rest for living, is not to his discredit. He must have courage and an eye to the future or he would not be taking up aviation. Two restless souls usually make a better combination than one restless soul tied to a staid one. However, if your faith in Eagle is so thin that you foresee neglect and heartache—tell him you can't marry him and why.

What would you do if the two young men stood before you, and that on penalty of their lives, you had to choose one of them?

The one you think of first is the nearest to being your mate.

SHOWING FOR 3 DAYS ONLY

"Mother Carey's Chickens" Stars
Ruby Keeler, Anne Shirley
And James Ellison

A stirring, true picture of the sympathetic modern classic by Kate Douglas Wiggin, "Mother Carey's Chickens" which will open today at the Dominion Theatre, features Anne Shirley, Ruby Keeler, James Ellison and Fay Bainter. The beloved story of a humble New England home at the turn of the century is convincingly presented by the cast and producer.

The vivid story traces the romances of two sisters, Ruby Keeler and Anne Shirley, who fall in love with the same man, James Ellison. Miss Keeler wins his affections, while Miss Shirley conquers her own jealousy, and girl-like, promptly falls in love with a young medical student, which brings the sisters' heart affairs to a happy conclusion.

DOCTORS CONVENE HERE ON FRIDAY

North Pacific Society of Internal Medicine Holding Two-Day Convention in City

Attracting medical men from Washington and Oregon as well as from outlying points in British Columbia, final plans for the fourth biennial convention of the North Pacific Society of Internal Medicine have been completed here. The meeting will take place in the Empress Hotel on Friday and Saturday, September 2 and 3.

Led by their president, Dr. George Dowling, of Seattle, the doctors will discuss the latest medical technique and methods of treatment developed during the year in the handling of internal ailments. Guest speaker at the convention will be Dr. William Boyd, of the Banting Institute, Toronto.

Last year more than forty American and Canadian doctors gathered here to attend the session. Dr. Lester Palmer, also of Seattle, will act as secretary.

Constipated? You Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they get at the cause of the trouble.

Chances are it's simple to find the cause. If you eat only what most people do—most bread, potatoes, it's likely you don't get enough "bulk" and "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulk" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old water-gate grow brighter. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

PLAZA A trickle of apparently innocent gossip becomes a torrent that almost wrecks the life of an innocent young girl in "Scandal Street" at the Plaza Theatre. Lew Ayres, Louise Campbell, Roscoe Karns, Porter Hall and Edgar Kennedy head the cast of popular players in this story of jealousy and intrigue on "Main Street."

SOCIAL CREDIT NOT WORKABLE

Irish Commission Finds Reasoning Faulty in Scheme of Major Douglas

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—Social credit schemes will not work, concluded the Irish Commission on Banking Currency and Credit after examination of various schemes associated with the names of Major C. H. Douglas and others which were submitted to the commission as suitable for Eire.

According to the report of the commission, all the schemes "largely suffered from faulty reasoning and, in so far as they contained elements of truth, these co-exist with large amounts of error. As regards the practical conclusions to which they tend, we have no hesitation in expressing our conviction that the measures proposed would not only fail to produce the desired results, but would add to difficulties which the authors of these schemes do not appreciate."

The commission included such internationally known experts as Professor Theodor M. Gregory, now financial adviser to the Government of India, and Dr. P. Jacobson, of the Bank of International Settlements.

It dealt also with the contention that the banks could create credit without cost and therefore that credit might be put at the disposal of society without any charge for interest or need for repayment. Those who reasoned along such lines, stated the commission, made no reference to the volume of available savings or, very often, not even to the inflationary effects of a substantial increase in bank credit, but simply asserted here was a source of untapped wealth for the community to use.

INJURED COUPLE ARE IMPROVING

Mr. and Mrs. D. Lavender, of Saseen, injured in Motor Accident Early Sunday

The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lavender, of Saseen, who were injured in a motor accident on the Sooke Road near Milne's Landing early Sunday, was reported by authorities at the Jubilee Hospital as being "fairly good" last night.

Mrs. Lavender suffered a fractured knee, cuts and bruises, and Mr. Lavender received cuts and a sprained back.

Mr. Donaldson, of Winnipeg, a passenger received a cut on her knee, and Mrs. Conder, of Saseen, a fourth occupant, was unhurt.

Provincial Police, who attended the accident, reported that the car went out of control, ploughed through a light railing at the edge of a culvert and landed on its side in a ravine fourteen feet deep. The car was badly damaged.

Cars driven by Clifford H. McLean, of Port Alberni, and R. H. Midram, 35 South Turner Street, side-swiped on the Malaita near the seventeen-mile post at 10:45 Sunday night, causing damage to the machines. The drivers escaped any injury.

That Body of Yours

JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

EARLY TREATMENT OF CANCER OF THE STOMACH SAVES MANY LIVES

"The first symptoms to be noticed in the great majority of cases are an unsettled discomfort after meals and an unaccountable loss of appetite. The patient is usually of the elder age, likely to be sedentary and has never suffered with indigestion before. With the failure of appetite there is a steady loss of weight and, as a rule, a progressive development of anaemia, thin blood."
